SELECTION UPDATE CYCLE 1985 - #2

The Amendment of Selection instructions, printouts and 'green' cards were mailed to the depository libraries on April 1, 1985. Please note, all selection changes must be received in LPS by May 24, 1985. Those received after that date will be held and processed for the next update period.

If you did not receive the April 1st package, please notify LPS at once.

CATHARINE REYNOLDS DIES

Catharine Reynolds, former head of government documents at the University of Colorado's Norlin Library, died April 18, 1985, at her home in Boulder. She held her position at the Norlin Library from 1966 to 1984, and previously she had been head of the Government Documents Library at the University of Iowa from 1950 to 1966. Miss Reynolds had been a member of the Advisory Council to the Public Printer and of the state documents subcommittee of the Colorado Council for Library Development. In 1979, she received the James Bennett Childs award for distinguished contributions to document librarianship from the Government Documents Round Table of the American Library Association. She was a valued member of the documents community and will be missed by her many friends and colleagues.

CORRECTION SHIPPING LISTS

Depository librarians who have sent in inquiries regarding classification numbers should refer to the correction shipping lists for any changes in class numbers. In an effort to expedite mail handling, LPS will use the corrections shipping lists as the vehicle to notify depositories of corrections, and will not necessarily provide individual replies to inquiries.

CLASSIFICATION HOTLINE

The classification hotline number is now (202) 275-1131. Please use the hotline only for recent problems, and continue to use the inquiry forms for older or complex problems.

HEALTH SCIENCES AUDIOVISUALS

HE 20.3614/5:(date)

Health Sciences Audiovisuals
(quarterly)

An April 1984 issue of Health Sciences Audiovisuals was received in LPS from the National Library of Medicine and LPS assigned the following class to it: HE 20.3614/5:984/1. Subsequently, NLM discovered numerous errors in the fiche and withdrew the fiche from circulation. Library Programs Service was not informed of the action and the April 1984 issue was distributed under its original class. The National Library of Medicine used that same class for the July 1984 issue. What follows is a list of NLM classes and LPS corrections:

NLM Classes	Date on Fiche	LPS Corrections	Shipping List No.
HE 20.3614/5:984/1	July 1984	HE 20.3614/5:984/2	M 840926-1
" " " 984/2	Oct. 1984	" " " 984/3	85-105-M
" " " 985/1	Dec. 1984	" " " 984/4	85-113-M

The National Library of Medicine has classed subsequent issues consecutively and, therefore, there are discrepancies in the correct classes that have appeared in prior shipping lists and the classes that were printed on the microfiche headers. Librarians are encouraged to transcribe the classes as shown on the shipping lists to the microfiche for this periodical. LPS has contacted NLM and they promised us that the March 1985 issue will be classed HE 20.3614/5:985/1.

CURRENT POPULATION REPORTS, P-70

The series "Current population reports, P-70" has been assigned by the Bureau of the Census to two unrelated publications: in the 1940's, to housing reports, and in the 1980's, to Economic Characteristics of Households in the United States. The Acting Chief, Publications Services Division, Bureau of the Census, said that this had been caused by an oversight by the contact person in the Population Division.

GPO has been in contact with the Bureau of the Census to have the P-70 series changed since December 12, 1984. In a recent letter to GPO, the Chief of the Population Division at Bureau of the Census stated that the problem is not serious enough to justify changing the series number, however.

GPO has assigned a new classification number to the second P-70 series: C 3.186:P-70/2/nos.). The first issue, covering the third quarter of 1983, was classified C 3.186:P-70/1, before we became aware of the problem. A correction to the shipping list will be forthcoming to make it: C 3.186:P-70/2/no.1. The second issue, covering the 4th quarter of 1983, will be distributed to depository libraries under ; C 3.186:P-70/2/83-4.

CORRECTION FROM SALES MEDIA BRANCH

Thanks to Johanna Thompson of the Delaware Law School Library for pointing out an error that was made in the March issue of Administrative Notes. That issue was accompanied by a copy of a Government memorandum issued by the Chief of our Sales Media Branch pointing out certain changes in the issuance of various Reports published by several United States Courts.

The last paragraph of Page 1 of that memorandum made reference to Patent cases formerly reported in the United States Court of Customs and Patent Appeals Reports sold by this Office. On the third line of that last paragraph, a source was given as the "Federal Reporter for the 2d Circuit". That was incorrect. The correct title is "Federal Reporter - 2d Series." (Note: All Circuits are covered in Federal Reporter - 2d Series). Please make note of this correction in your records.

CLASS NUMBER FOR FWS DOCUMENT

The Sudocs classification number for the Fish and Wildlife Research and Development Annual Report that was mentioned in Administrative Notes, Mar. 1985, v. 6, no. 3, p. 15 is I 49.92:(date).

USGS MAP SERIES CANCELLED

The Geological Survey has advised LPS that the United States Topographic/Bathymetric Map Series, class I 19.101:(nos.), item 619-G-20 will no longer be separately issued or distributed. Future maps of this type will be included in the topographic quadrangles or topographic specials series.

Two maps of this type were listed on Shipping List 85-175-P with incorrect classification and item numbers. Both maps, St. Joseph Point quadrangle, Florida and Indian Pass quadrangle, Florida, belong in class stem I 19.81:(nos.), the 7.5 minute topographic series, and were distributed to libraries selecting item 619-M-09.

IDENTIFYING DEPOSITORY TITLES IN ERA

Department of Energy technical reports that are distributed to the Depository Library System can be identified in Energy Research Abstracts published by the Department of Energy's Office of Scientific and Technical Information.

If a report is designated for the Depository Library System, the availability element in the report abstract header is indicated as "GPO Dep.". Note the following examples:

Report number	Date of publication	Corporate author	Availability
5785	(BML/ONWI-522)	Thermal property and density measurements of samples taken from drilling cores from potential geologic media. Lagedrost, J.F.; Capps, W. (Fiber Materials, Inc., Biddeford, ME (USA)).	Dec. 1983. 179p. NTIS File Number DE84004926. GPO Dep.
Density, steady-state conductivity, enthalpy, specific heat, heat capacity, thermal diffusivity and linear thermal expansion were measured on 59 materials from core drill samples of several geologic media, including rock salt, basalt, and other associated rocks from 7 potential sites for nuclear waste isolation. The measurements were conducted from or near to room temperature up to 500°C, or to lower temperatures if limited by specimen cracking or fracturing. Ample documentation establishes the reliability of the property measurement methods and the accuracy of the results.

From ASME international computers in engineering conference; Las Vegas, NV, USA (12 Aug 1984).

Portions are illegible in microfiche products.

A new generation of integrated remote maintenance systems is being developed to meet the needs of future nuclear fuel reprocessing at the Oak Ridge National Laboratory. Development activities cover all aspects of an advanced teleoperated maintenance system with particular emphasis on a new force-reflecting servomanipulator concept. The new manipulator, called the advanced servomanipulator, is microprocessor controlled and is designed to achieve force-reflection performance near that of mechanical master/slave manipulators. The advanced servomanipulator uses a gear-drive transmission which permits modularization for remote maintainability (by other advanced servomanipulators) and increases reliability. Human factors analysis has been used to develop an improved man/machine interface concept based upon colorgraphic displays and menu-driven touch screens. Initial test and evaluation of two advanced servomanipulator slave arms and several other development components have begun. 9 references, 5 figures.

From International school of solvent extraction; Barcelona, Spain (1 Oct 1984).

Portions are illegible in microfiche products.

The role of solvent extraction in the Purex process is discussed. 2 figures, 1 table.

42938 (DP-1690) Process control for a continuous uranyl nitrate evaporator. Peterson, S.F.; MacIntyre, L.P. (Du Pont de Nemours (E.I.) and Co., Aiken, SC (USA). Savannah River Lab.). Jul 1984. Contract AC09-76SR00001 61p. NTIS, PC A04/MF A01; 1; GPO Dep. File Number DE84016863.

Portions are illegible in microfiche products. Original copy available until stock is exhausted.

A continuous uranyl nitrate evaporator at the Savannah River Plant (SRP) in Aiken, South Carolina was the subject of this work. A rigorous mathematical model of the evaporator was developed. A difference equation form of the model was then constructed and used for control studies. Relative gain analysis was done on the system in order to identify any promising multivariable control schemes. Several alternate control schemes were modeled, tuned, and compared against the scheme presently in use at SRP. As the pneumatic specific gravity instrumentation at SRP is very noisy, the noise was simulated and used in the second phase of the control study. In this phase, alternate tuning methods and filters were investigated and compared. The control studies showed that the control algorithm now in use at SRP is the simplest and best available. 10 references, 53 figures, 22 tables.

NATIONAL ARCHIVES CLASSIFICATION

The National Archives and Records Administration became an independent agency effective April 1, 1985. Since it is no longer subordinate to the General Services Administration it can no longer be classified under GS 4. After due consideration of the Archives' history and of constraints on the LPS classification operation, it has been decided to resurrect the former class stem AE, which was used during the Archives' first period of independence from 1934 until 1949.

In order to avoid classification conflicts and duplication of classes assigned during that period, LPS has decided to resume classification under the AE stem with numbers beginning with AE 1.101. Publications of the Federal Register Office, formerly GS 4.100's, will begin with AE 2.102.

JCP AD HOC COMMITTEE REPORT

The report prepared by the JCP's Ad Hoc Committee on Depository Library Access to Federal Automated Data Bases, entitled Provision of Federal Government Publications in Electronic Format to Depository Libraries, has been cataloged by LPS and the entry, number 85-11809, appears in the May 1985 Monthly Catalog, under class number Y 4.P 93/1:P 96/2. The report was issued to all depository libraries, but no item number appears in the record, since Item 556-C for "All Libraries" had not yet been devised at the time.

LPS obtained a copy of Draft 15 of the report for cataloging, and that record appears in the December 1984 Monthly Catalog, entry number 84-24754. Draft 15 was an informal version and was generated for the interim use by Committee members only. It was not distributed outside the Committee, nor do any copies exist. Since the published document contained cataloging-in-publication, which included the class number previously assigned to Draft 15, the class for Draft 15 has been changed to Y 4.P 93/1:P 96/2/draft 15.

Please do not send requests for copies of Draft 15 to either LPS or the JCP.

Bringing Government Information to You

MARKETING YOUR LIBRARY

PART FIVE

WE'RE IN PRINT.... I've been receiving responses to the print public service announcements on the Depository Library Program from inquirers all across the country! Joyce Truman, our Media Placement Specialist, will be listing the publications we've verified that have contributed space for the ads. Watch for her news FLASH.

I'd like to thank all the librarians who have sent me copies of the ads from their local papers. This information is vital for measuring the effectiveness of our campaign. Please continue to send me those tear-sheets when you come across them.

A set of the print ads was distributed to each Depository Library last month. Extra copies are available from my office if you need more.

INDIANA AND UTAH.... Two particularly impressive brochures on the Depository Program have recently been issued by these State library groups. Several librarians from the State Library Advisory Council of Indiana have developed a four-page newsprint tabloid which describes the Federal Program and Indiana Depository services, and lists the names and addresses of individual Government publications librarians. This exceptionally well-designed work would be a useful model for any group planning to create a promotional piece. You may request a sample copy from: Indiana State Library, 140 North Senate, Indianapolis, Indiana 46204.

The Government Documents Round Table of the Utah Library Association has created a one-page, red, white and blue folded brochure describing the variety of information available from Depositories and listing the areas of special subject emphasis in each Depository in the State. This attractive brochure is available to interested librarians from Mr. Lennis Anderson, State Library Division of Utah, 2150 South 300 West, Suite 16, Salt Lake City, Utah 84115.

FOR YOUR INFORMATION.... The committee print, 'Provision of Federal Government Publications in Electronic Format to Depository Libraries' has been distributed through the Depository system (Y 4.P 93/1:P 96/2). This report of the Ad Hoc Committee on Depository Library Access (a committee representing Depository Librarians, various Federal agencies, and the information industry) presents recommendations on the feasibility of providing electronic information to Depository Libraries. This publication is essential reading for all who are interested in the potential impact of electronic information on Government documents librarianship. If you'd like extra copies, they're available for sale from the Superintendent of Documents at $5.50 (s/n 052-070-05970-2).

IT'S CONFERENCE SEASON.... As many national, regional, State, and local library associations plan for their annual meetings and conferences, several Depository Librarians have requested extra copies of our promotional materials for their exhibits. The Depository bookmarks, brochures, lists and posters, along with US Government Books and New Books catalogs and direct mail fliers are available to all who would like to distribute them at their local conferences. Just drop me a line to let me know where and when you'd like to receive the materials. Please notify me 3-4 weeks in advance to allow for shipping time.

OOPS.... In the last issue of 'Marketing Your Library' I mentioned four Government publications cited by Choice magazine as award winning reference titles. I also suggested that Depository Librarians display these books in their collections to call attention to the awards. Although all GPO sales publications are, as a rule, automatically distributed to the Depository system, one of the winning titles slipped through the cracks. Corporate Farming (A 1.107:506) had not been distributed to Depositories, which makes it pretty difficult for you to display it. The Department of Agriculture has been notified, and copies of the publication will be made available. Thank you to those librarians who called my attention to this matter. Although I'm sorry the error was made, I'm heartened to see that my column is being so carefully read.

ON A BRIGHTER NOTE.... On Friday, April 26th, Superintendent of Documents Donald Fossedal announced the appointment of Charles McKeown as the new Director of Marketing. As Deputy Director since 1982, Mr. McKeown was instrumental in the creation of the Depository promotional materials and public service announcements. We look forward to a very productive and successful era in the promotion of Government information under his skilled leadership.

GPO OFFICIALS, KANSAS CITY DIGNITARIES MEET FOR GOVERNMENT BOOKSTORE GRAND OPENING

Grand opening ceremonies for the newly relocated Government Printing Office Bookstore are set for 11 a.m., Thursday, April 11 in Kansas City's Bannister Mall.

The Public Printer of the United States Ralph E. Kennickell, Jr. will be joined by Congressman Alan D. Wheat of Kansas City at the ribbon-cutting ceremony. Other area dignitaries expected to join in the grand opening festivities for the bookstore include: Al Kemp, Chairman, Kansas City Federal Executive Board; Linda Cozad, administrative assistant and representative of Missouri Governor John Ashcroft; Georganne Hedges, representative of Missouri Senator John C. Danforth; Michael Fisher, administrative assistant to Kansas City Mayor Richard Berkley; Robert W. MacGregor, President, Greater Kansas City Chamber of Commerce; Helen Wigersma, President, Missouri Library Association; and Doug Petty, President, Printing Industries Association of Kansas City.

"Placing our bookstore in such an easily accessible location is just another part of our commitment to better serve the American public," Kennickell said in announcing the move to the mall from a location in the downtown Federal building. The new store stocks more than 2,000 Government titles and is able to provide customers with more than 16,000 documents upon request. Everything from the more technical volumes such as "Dictionary of Occupational Titles," to the highly popular space publications such as "Martian Landscapes," can be found on our shelves, Manager Oda M. (Kitty) Burton points out.

Located on the first level of Bannister Mall, the Kansas City bookstore is open Monday through Saturday from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m., and on Sundays from noon until 6 p.m.

ON THE SAME TEAM...

As you may already know, the Marketing Department is now a part of the Office of the Superintendent of Documents. We are happy to be on the team and look forward to working together implementing the Bookstore Marketing Plan. Members of the marketing staff will be meeting with the assistant managers, at the conference being held March 26-28, to discuss basic marketing techniques.

PRODUCTION OF...

The Book Mark newsletter has been transferred to Marketing. Issues will be produced irregularly but frequently...whenever there is information to convey. Your input is welcomed. Let me know about activities you wish to share and I'll pass the news along via the Book Mark. You can reach me at (202) 275-3634.

MAKING A COME BACK...

are the Sales PSAs promoting the US Government Books catalog. Random samplings of mail indicate they are still being aired. CBS television network requested permission to continue airing them for another year. Just recently, 15 cable systems accepted the PSAs for airing through 1985. Some will continue using them longer. We'll be interested in hearing from you if you should see them.

BY CHOICE...

Choice Magazine has selected four GPO publications for their 1984-85 "Outstanding Academic Books/Nonprint Materials". They are:

1. CORPORATE FARMING: Importance, Incentives, and State Restrictions.
2. PRESIDENTS COMMISSION FOR STUDY OF ETHICAL PROBLEMS IN MEDICINE AND BIOMEDICAL AND BEHAVIORAL RESEARCH. v.1
3. RAILROAD MAPS OF NORTH AMERICA: The First Hundred Years.
4. REVOLUTIONARY AMERICA, 1763-1789: A Bibliography. 2 v.

The winning titles will appear in the May 1985 issue of Choice. Thinking positively, lets be prepared for an increase in requests.

RELOCATION OF...

the Kansas City bookstore to Bannister Mall is scheduled for April 1st. A grand opening celebration is being planned for April 11th. The Public Printer and the Assistant Public Printer (Superintendent of Documents) will attend. Many State, Federal and local dignitaries have been invited to the opening ceremony.

GOOD LUCK TO...

Roberta Crowley, manager of the Boston bookstore on her presentation to the Maine Library Association/Maine Educational Media Association Conference on May 20, 1985 at the University of Maine in Orono, Maine. Great going Roberta...we'll be looking forward to hearing from you upon your return.

MANY THANKS...

from June Malina, Marketing's Direct Mail Manager, to all bookstore personnel for helping with the distribution of flyers to your customers.

MORE COPIES OF...

the "Career Guidance" flyer were requested by Alene Pichler, manager of the Pueblo bookstore. Alene was a guest of the Delta Kappa Gamma Chapter of the Honorary Society for School Teachers Conference. The theme was "Career Options for Women" and Alene made the flyers available to the attendees.

OTHER PROMOTIONAL ACTIVITIES...

for government publications by our Pueblo bookstore manager include the publication of a news release in a local newspaper which promoted the 1984 Agriculture Yearbook, Animal Health, Livestock and Pets. Several other publications were also mentioned in the release. Alene will be providing Subject Bibliographies and other promotional material to participants of a conference on "Family Violence and Child Abuse" which is being held in her area soon. She is steadily on the move; I'll try to make updates of her activities in future issues of the Book Mark.

ON ANOTHER PROMOTIONAL NOTE...

the Depository Library public awareness program is still going strong. Distribution of the Print PSAs will be made soon to the print media around the country. The broadcast PSAs are continually being aired.

BEST WISHES AND MUCH HAPPINESS...

to Wayne M. Braswell, manager of the Birmingham store, on his retirement from Federal service.

HOW AND WHEN TO CONTACT THE LIBRARY PROGRAMS SERVICE

In response to numerous requests from depository librarians, the Library Programs Service has created this list of procedures, addresses and telephone numbers as a guide for communicating with the Library Programs Service. Please save this list and post it in a prominent location.

Since the Library Programs Service is entirely made up of "production workers" and has no research or administrative staff assigned to handle nonstandard inquiries, depository librarians are encouraged to submit their inquiries on a Depository Library Inquiry Form, GPO Form #3794 (see Exhibit E of the Instructions to Depository Libraries.) The Depository Library Inquiry Form greatly facilitates LPS' ability to respond rapidly to the majority of questions submitted from the depository libraries. Additional copies of the Depository Library Inquiry Form can be obtained by writing to:

U.S. Government Printing Office
Library Programs Service (SLLA)
Washington, DC 20401

For librarians with urgent or complicated questions, questions not suitable for the Depository Inquiry Form, the following guidance is provided:

1. There are certain questions or services (i.e. getting copies of missing shipping lists, etc.) that are best handled at the local or Regional level. If these services are available locally, Depository Librarians should use them, instead of contacting GPO.
2. When writing to the Library Programs Service you should always include your depository library number, your business phone number and what times you can be reached by phone. Please address your letters to the specific area within LPS that deals with your particular concern.

For questions regarding: Library Programs Service policy,

write to: U.S. Government Printing Office
Director
Library Programs Service (SL)
Washington, DC 20401

or call: (202) 275-1114

For questions regarding depository designations or operations, the Instructions to Depository Libraries, Inspections, Biennial Survey, depository and/or Regional depository responsibilities,
